Ms. Eckart.
To a very nice
teacher who I'll never forget. Can't wait to see you next year in your class. Please for a great summer. Don't forget me over the short vacation. See you in Sept.

(Th)

To Mrs. Eckart,

I enjoyed being in your class this year very much. Although I haven't always been working
I have learnt more in this class than I had in any other home
ec. class. Have a terrific summer and I hope to be
in your class next fall.

Kathy
Cornelius

Mrs. Eckert,
Don't ever
forget our class. Hope you have a nice summer.
Good luck in the future.
Annette

A. G. Eckert

the way it was before

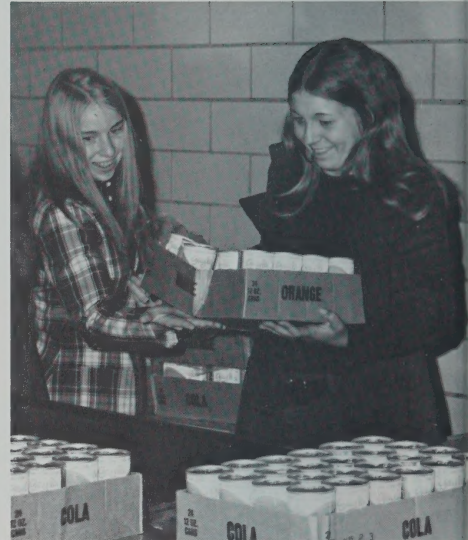

the flowers on the hillside,
the kites above the town,
the skating on the mill-pond,
while the snow was falling down;
ah, the years of laughter,
but laughter comes no more,
and i wish it was the way it was before.

the dappled days of dancing,
the nights too warm to dream,
when all the friendly animals would gather at the stream;
ah, the endless summer,
but summer comes no more,
and i wish it was the way it was before.

the way it was when we could talk to one another,
with words; only words;
and a friend was a friend and a lover was a lover;
and when you prayed to god,
you felt he really heard.

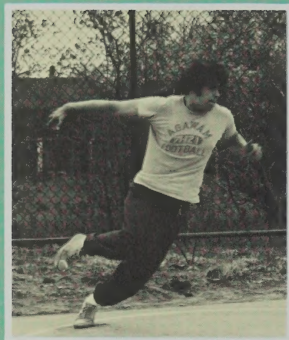

the flowers are all dying.
the kites are sailing down,
i guess the friendly animals have come along and gone ;
i used to wait for summer,
but summer comes no more,

sophomores

class of 1975

under the guidance of mr. joseph, the sophomore class hopes to be the "class of accomplishments". the class officers; rick mastroianni — president, ann osolinski — vice president, kathy ayre — secretary and jane brodeur — treasurer, has thus far carried on a class dance. future plans include a bake sale, a courtyard dance, a showing of popular movies, and a candy sale — all in preparation for the coming big event in their junior year, the junior-senior prom. toward the end of the year, the sophomores will order their class rings, which will always hold memories of their precious high school years.

led by president susan wheeler, vice-president pam dubour, secretary liz norman, and treasurer denise pepper, the junior class became the first to break tradition by holding the prom, with the theme "three roses", in the form of a dinner dance at chez josef's.

class rings were distributed and a candy sale was conducted under the supervision of class advisor mr. sheehan. other activities of the vivacious juniors included a christmas bake sale and a spirited junior class-faculty basketball game.

the dedication and enthusiasm of the class officers led the junior class through a socially successful year.

"hey, capt.!" "practice tonight at seven!" "who's baking friday?" "the bus leaves at five o'clock!" "who's driving to kibbe's?" "let's take the posters out of the cafeteria and put 'em up in the locker room." "who's banging on the lockers?" the a.h.s. varsity cheerleaders are always busy making posters, trying out new cheers, and getting ready for rallies. with her inspiration and many good ideas, miss hastings helped the girls on to a successful cheering season.

our senior cheerleaders are peggy polopek,

peggy gacona,

judy corbin,

robin turnbull,

our varsity cheerleaders

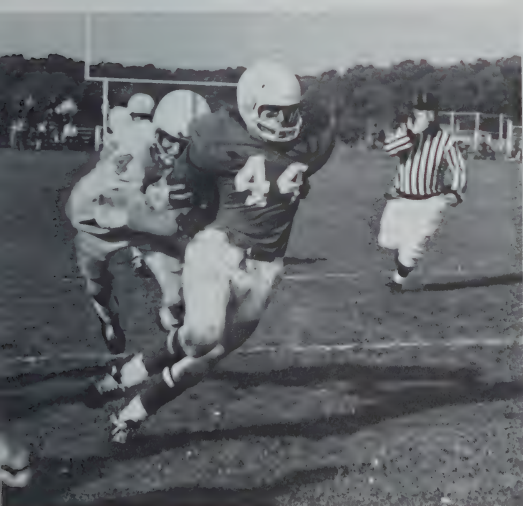

and mary morin.

agawam defenders take down an intruder.

agawam's shawn sullivan breaking one tackle, rushes for a few more yards.

agawam's john martino attempts a tackle on a greenfield player.

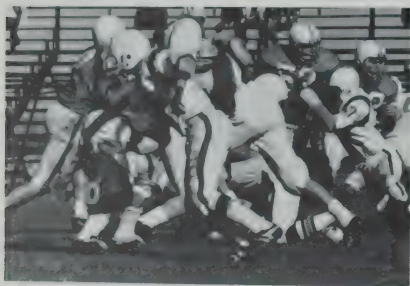

the 1972 season was a tragic one. after the victories over greenfield and holyoke, agawam's football expectations soared. however, this was soon erased by the tragic events of the remainder of the football season.

with the loss to tech, the downfall began . . . westfield, cathedral, chicopee, chicopee comp. however, this disaster was soon to end as we salvaged a 12 to 12 tie with westside and maintained our 10 year undefeated record.

our expectations, once more aroused, were further stimulated by coach kibbe's optimism based on next year's 22 returning lettermen. those seniors; captain steve mason, ray barbieri, john waterman, bill zerbenopoulos, mike richards, paul broz and ed gibson, are to be commended for the excitement they gave us — win or lose.

a successful beginning for any sports team creates a positive outlook. however, the 1972 soccer team began its year against powerful teams and finished out its season with a 2-9-1 record. one of the highlights was the selection of gary webster and doug janik to the coaches all-league team.

we must bid a farewell to eleven seniors this year and hope that the j.v. squad can supply some outstanding replacements.

basketball

this year's team got off to a good start with victories over greenfield, westside and a 75-73 overtime victory over minnechaug. coach kibbe has great expectations for this season. although the team has no giants, they make up for it with brains and speed. with fast breaks and clutch shooting, agawam is able to rack up the points.

seniors walt ugolick, ray barbieri, mike richards and paul henault add depth and morale to the team.

coach kibbe is looking forward to next season with even greater confidence. returning starters steve byrne, cliff kibbe, tom quinn, dave michalak and lettermen dan lunden, mark deforge, dave d'amour, bill stone, and rich sardella give coach kibbe reason for his confidence.

girls' basketball

this is the third year of organized girls' basketball at agawam high school. the team is basically a young one led by senior co-captain janet dalmolin and junior co-captain brenda devine. the girls started the season with two scrimmages and played a total of sixteen games. this spirited team of nutty brownies, coached by mrs. hirschhaut, may be short in height, but they are big in spirit.

coach hirschhaut explains an important play to team members.

senior captain doug janik

the 1972-73 hockey team, under the direction of russ ramah and art gage, is beginning it's second season in the tough berry division. the first year in this division resulted in a playoff berth.

this year the brownies got off to a slow start, but they were hopeful for a playoff position again this year, but with a record of 4-11-1, their hopes were diminished.

one of the highlights of the year is a 0-0 tie to a powerful amherst team. the brownies also recorded their highest goal output in two years with an 8-1 victory over tasonic.

the brownies skates are lead by doug janik, bud ramah, tom ennis and brian telford. other seniors are barry economidy, rick loncrini and jamie fenton.

the heart does not forget those things that made it feel so light —
 the loving memory of her voice
 her smile so warm and bright . . .
 the heart does not forget these things
 we're certain, that's for sure,
 for our hearts remember countless joys we've known—because of her.
 she was very skillful in the "arts" —
 the art of thoughtfulness,
 the art of understanding
 in things that she expressed . . .
 the art of being needed
 in a world where very few
 are gifted with gentleness, and certainly the art of cheer
 is one that she's acquired . . .
 she was a warm and welcome someone who will always be admired . . .
 she'll always have a smile to wear
 and a place in many hearts
 for the many talents she displayed in all life's finest "arts".

in loving memory of

nostalgia

well, it's almost dawn, and i can't believe that i made it through last night, what with speeches, "pomp and circumstance", all those congratulations . . . and that darn tassell it sure feels good to get it out of my eyes. might as well put it in the drawer with all my other odds 'n ends. i really should clean this drawer out some day — what's this? an elevator ticket??? oh, i remember! that was when i was a dumb freshman and some tough senior walked up to me and conned me into buying it. yeah, and wasn't that the year when the dress code was dumped so everyone could look and learn comfortably? i bet the upperclassmen thought i was nuts, but i really couldn't help staring at all the locker lovers i saw every time i turned a corner. i got my first taste of student government that year by electing class officers. i chose louie ramah as president, sue denoncourt as vice-president, peggy gacona as secretary, and buddy ramah as treasurer, and by some coincidence my candidates won. with the help of advisor mr. baggetta, they put on a wicked dance; i think the band was "jack veronesi and friends", and it added quite a bit to buddy's bank book, and i'll always remember my first experiences with the school lunches . . . but i guess being a freshman wasn't that bad after all.

looking back, it's amazing how one year changed me from a frightened freshman to a sophisticated sophomore. as an upperclassman, i was given the "privilege" of attending rallies, although it seemed more of a punishment during class competitions when i was overwhelmed by the juniors. i'll never forget that after two weeks of begging, borrowing and stealing the ten dollar deposit for my class ring, i was awarded with a blue plastic band to wear in its place until the order would come in the following year. louie, robin turnbull, peggy and buddy led me through my second year at good ol' a.h.s., and mr. tatro replaced the retired mr. harris as principal. i think that was the year i voted for students to represent me at the council of sixteen, which was formed to try to close the communication gap between the faculty and the students. it seems like bake sales were on the rise that year 'cause i can remember cleaning burnt pans as one of my duties as a member of "buddy's volunteer brownie bakers". well, by spring, i had settled down to the routine of high school and i felt that my sophomore year was easier to swallow than the first.

then i was a junior, and i proudly flashed my class ring around the school. my favorite memory of that year was seeing the disappointed seniors when i won the decorations competition for the west side rally for the first time in a.h.s. history. i remember another first for our school was organized girls' varsity sports, with the girls' softball team losing only one game. i won the inter-class play with my performance of sha-na-na. i had to wash my hair five times afterwards to get the grease out, but i guess it was worth it. after that was the annual school play, "the sound of music", and woody cogswell did a fine job as a lead. nancy george was class president that year, leean hart was vice-president, and peggy and buddy hung in there for a third year. since i was a junior, it was my job to pick a theme for the prom. i kinda liked the idea of "scarborough fair" at the high point motor inn, and it must have been a good idea 'cause everyone had a great time. i was sorry to see my junior year end, but i couldn't wait to be a senior.

senior year was fantastic! it started off with senior hats and shirts. (i can still hear the senior cheer), my second victory with decorations for the west side rally and football season. the band and colorguard were chosen to represent the area in a national competition in philadelphia, and they came home with a third place trophy in parading. mr. davis was so proud of his band ... i had often spent my studies in the library, which had been under the direction of mrs. holmes for seventeen years. but i guess she had enough years of arranging, filing and advising because she retired early in the year and mrs. schimel became our new librarian. in january, all four classes piled into the gym to listen to (and stare at) senator kennedy, who visited our school while on tour of the area. the excitement was unbelievable! the band played, the colorguard saluted, the press snapped pictures and the students cheered. mr. tatro was chosen principal for the new junior high, so mr. t. replaced him. the freshmen left for the new school in january and i remember that for the first time i could walk to my classes without getting trampled in crowded halls. suzie hurley was appointed director of the office of student affairs, which replaced the student council, and for the last time i chose my class officers: paul henault as president, debbie caroleo as vice-president and peggy and buddy for the fourth year in a row. when open campus started, i spent first period at dunkin' donuts, g period at macdonald's and last period driving home. with laurie leduc and robbie turnbull as the leads in "my fair lady", tickets were sold out. for the first time, the prom was held in the form of a dinner-dance at chez josef's with the theme "three roses", but, i think the most fun i had all year was at the kid party. i can remember smudging painted freckles, pulling up my ankle socks, looking for my teddy bear and dancing and laughing.

and then last night at the coliseum ... i was so happy when dr. gardner handed me my diploma — but i didn't even think ... it's all over now. i guess i'll kinda miss it. an elevator ticket??? guess i won't be cleaning out this drawer for awhile. i didn't even get to say good-bye to everyone — maybe tomorrow ...

by the way, in case you're wondering who i am, i'm the class of 1973, and this is the way it was before.

our american yearbook representative

much sweat and hard work goes into the production of a yearbook. behind the scenes is the publisher's representative who tries to keep the staff from total confusion. the yearbook staff consists of 'green horns' in the publishing business, and without a representative who has a special knowledge which co-ordinates our activities, the staff would be in a frenzy most of the year. the yearbook staff gratefully acknowledges the help and support from american yearbook representative, don lendry.

in the effort of producing this yearbook, sachem staff has tried to capture love-lasting memories of the 1972-1973 school year. it is our sincere hope not to have merely produced a picture book, but rather to have stimulated a sense of pride and happiness when reflecting upon the way it was before.*

on behalf of sachem '73, i would like to express my sincere thanks to don lendry, american yearbook representative; loring studios; roger ashton, artist; and most of all to our neat advisor, mr. david pulaski.
